Get help and meet other learners. Join your Community!

Are you looking for help with the platform or course content? Eager to connect with your fellow learners? Dive into the heart of your dynamic Community  now!

Thousands of learners like you use the Community every day to:

- Get help when they're stuck.
- Get advice on the right career path and courses for them.
- Meet people with the same interests or on the same journey.

When you have a question or are ready to start a conversation, click this link  to head to the Computer Science topic.

You can use the Computer Science topic to ask questions and learn more about Computer Science, or join one or more groups to find people like you. You can start by introducing yourself or, if you're not ready to post just yet, follow the topics and groups you're interested in so you can come back to the conversations later.
