

Renien / jaccard-similarity-python.py

Last active 17 months ago • Report abuse

☆ Star

<> Code  Revisions 2  Stars 5  Forks 1

Jaccard Similarity: The Jaccard similarity of sets is the ratio of the size of the intersection of the sets to the size of the union. This measure of similarity is suitable for many applications, including textual similarity of documents and similarity of buying habits of customers.

 jaccard-similarity-python.py

```
1  __author__ = 'renienj'
2
3  import numpy as np
4
5  def compute_jaccard_similarity_score(x, y):
6      """
7      Jaccard Similarity J (A,B) = | Intersection (A,B) | /
8                                   | Union (A,B) |
9      """
10     intersection_cardinality = len(set(x).intersection(set(y)))
11     union_cardinality = len(set(x).union(set(y)))
12     return intersection_cardinality / float(union_cardinality)
13
14 if __name__ == "__main__":
15
16     score = compute_jaccard_similarity_score(np.array([0, 1, 2, 5, 6]), np.array([0, 2, 3, 5, 6]))
17     print "Jaccard Similarity Score : %s" %score
18     pass
```