

≡ Item Navigation

Preparing the Concrete Images for Classification

You now know how to prepare a collection of images and extract basic features. So, how can you extract and visualize features from the images of concrete?

Navigate to the Module 1 folder and open the file

`preparingYourImagesForClassification.mlx`. Work through the live script to extract features and save them for future use training and evaluating a classification model.

✓ Completed

Go to next item

Like

Dislike

Report an issue