

Report a problem with the course

We're sorry you're having trouble with your Coursera course. Many common issues can be resolved using Coursera's troubleshooting guide, so that's a great place to start.

If you're still experiencing technical issues or problems with the course material (such as errors, broken links, or inaccessible content), please take a moment to tell us what's not working for you. Your input will be shared with Duke so we can investigate and address any issues affecting the course.

If everything is working and you do NOT need to report a problem, simply click "Mark as completed" to move on. You can come back to this form at any point if you need to report a problem.

Thank you for helping us improve the course for everyone!
