

Where to Find Help

Where to Find Help — Non-Credit Learners

Non-credit learners have a few options if they run into problems. We recommend using the following resources in the order listed:

- 1. Ask a question of your peers in a discussion forum
- 2. Find related articles in the Learner Help Center
- 3. Contact Coursera's technical support team
- 4. Flag the issue in the course (non-urgent issues only)

We work to promptly fix all course issues that Coursera technical support identifies as requiring the course author's attention. We prioritize urgent issues that impede learner progress in our non-credit courses, and we also periodically review flagged issues.

Go to next item ☒ Completed

Like Dislike Report an issue

