Thank you for starting on this course about using Open Source local Large Language Models. We have a vast background teaching and using Machine Learning in several institutions including Duke University as well as industry experience. We hope you get to see this throughout the course.

Both Noah Gift and Alfredo Deza tend to provide useful updates to courses and other technology related information that you might find useful beyond this course.

Feel free to connect with Noah (<https://www.linkedin.com/in/noahgift/> ) and Alfredo (<https://www.linkedin.com/in/alfredodeza/> ) on LinkedIn.

We hope you are happy with the content at the end. Would love to hear your opinion and any feedback you have!
